RARE Science RARE Bear Program

Dear Undiagnosed and RARE Families,

Thank you for your interest in requesting a one of a kind handmade RARE Bear for your one of a kind rare child! This is a free program, thanks to the dedication of many volunteers and sponsors, and we are looking forward to sharing these bears made by hands of hope, love and support with you!

In order to request a RARE Bear for your child, please fill out the RARE Bear request form/photo consent. We ask for your child's likes so we can match the perfect bear and also ask you to send back a picture of your child and the RARE Bear in its new home which means so much to the original bear maker and all the hands that made it possible to send a bear to your child.

Our RARE Bear Program is made up of 1500 RARE Bear Makers around the world (we span 15 countries and 45 states in the US) that we call the RARE Bear Army. These dedicated volunteers sew each bear, and mail them to us unstuffed. At our headquarters, we have more volunteers that fill the bears with soft stuffing, then sew the seams shut, along with packing and shipping the bears to children around the world! For each of the amazing RARE Bear makers, we like to send them a picture of the child with their gifted bear that they made back to the maker. It really makes their day to see the bears that they lovingly made in the arms of a child!

We also like to share the photos on our picture gallery at: <http://www.rarescience.org/rare-bear-program/rare-bear-kids/> (no identifying info, names or diseases are listed), as many hands have helped with making the bears, and they also like to see the special RARE Bear has found a home!

We understand your concerns of privacy and if you only want to share a picture of your child's hands holding the bear or the bear itself relaxing in a chair, that is perfect as it shows that the RARE Bear has found a home. Any information shared with the Rare Science and RARE Bear Army is kept private, and will not be shared publicly. The consent is only for the picture or video that you will send to us. This final effort to share your photos means so much to the RARE Bear Army! Thank you.

Please contact us if you have any questions. We look forward to hearing from you soon!

All our best,
The RARE Science Team and The RARE Bear Army!

RARE Science accelerates finding therapies for kids with rare disease by empowering patient families/foundations with tools that help with community awareness and patient outreach through our RARE Bear Program. We also drive research by pooling knowledge and providing research tools for specific diseases so we can understand the biology that is responsible for the observable traits of rare disease. This helps identify therapies that may help in the more immediate. We unite patient families, clinicians and researchers across the globe to accelerate finding cures for the most vulnerable patients, our children! For more information, please see our website www.rarescience.org

Please consider making a donation to support our RARE Bear Program that help us cover cost of shipping to our kids.
